About the Exam

This exam is the most often used exam for Postal Service job openings. Most Postal Service job openings are filled using this exam. Even many part time jobs are filled using this exam. This exam is used for so many job openings that it is sometimes referred to as the Postal Battery Exam, General Entrance Battery Exam among other names. Obviously, it is to your benefit to become familiar with this exam.

The Exam has two separate sections.

The first section is the Personal Characteristics & Experience Inventory section (known as PCEI or PCI). Because this section is a part of multiple exams, we also went over this section in the "Postal Service and Other Government Job Opportunities Guide". The Guide was available for download separately, when you downloaded this practice exam. If you did not download the Guide when you downloaded this practice exam, you can simply refer back to the email we sent you for the download link to access the "Postal Service and Other Government Job Opportunities Guide".

The second section contains the majority of the exam. This section consists of 3 parts:

- A. Address Checking
- B. Address Coding and Memory
- C. Forms Completion

Questions: 88 Time: 5 minutes

This is really a 2 section part, one for coding and one for memory. The memory section is the more difficult part and is our main focus here. During the coding section you will simply look at the chart and pick which group an address falls in, A, B, C, or D. The coding section is basically an open book test and as long as you look at the chart, the placing of the addresses is fairly simple. However, during the memory section, once the timed exam has started, you will not be allowed to look back at the groups of addresses. For this sample exam, during the memory section, you may study the following table of addresses for 5 minutes. You need to focus on memorizing which letter group the address appears in. On the exam itself you will simply need to remember which letter group that particular address was in. After 5 minutes put the table of addresses aside and begin the exam. You are not able to look at the table after you have started the exam. The answer sheets are behind the exam.

Part III Forms Completion

The Postal Service has a number of various forms that are completed through the process of performing job duties. Therefore, it's important that an employee know and understand how to complete various forms. The Forms Completion section tests your ability to complete various sample forms quickly and accurately. This part will show you 3 different forms for completion. Each form will be shown first and the following page will then ask you 6 separate questions about that form. The answer sheets are behind the exam.

The forms and questions begin on the next page.

Scoring the Results

Part I. Address Checking

Determine how many answers you checked correctly and incorrectly this will give you a raw score. Fill in these two numbers in the following equation:
Correct Answers	(minus) 	Incorrect Answers	(equals) =	Score
Part II. Address Memory
Determine how many answers you checked correctly and incorrectly Take the number of incorrect answers and divide that number by 4. Then put that number and the number of correct answers into the following equation:
Correct Answers	(minus)	Incorrect Ans. / 4	(equals)	Score
Now, add the two scores from Part I. And Part II to determine a raw score.
Part I Score	Plus	Part II Score	(equals)	Total Score
	+ .		=

Part III. Forms Completion

Total number of correct answers divided by 18 = _____ %

Remember, these are not your official scores it is just a way for you to measure your progress.

PERSONALITY EXAM -

The Personality Exam is designed to build a personality profile and work ethics profile of a job applicant. The Personality Exam can be given by itself. The Postal Service uses this exam to select the best possible employees. We can assist you on scoring well on this exam. This exam will ask you a series of questions. Many of these questions are about the same topic, or the same questions, simply asked in different ways. The questions cover the topics of temper, stress, tolerance, motivation, frustration, organization, among others as well. All of the questions are multiple choice. For example, some questions will have answers such as "Strongly Agree", "Agree", "Disagree" and "Strongly Disagree". Other questions may have answers such as "Very Often", "Often", "Sometimes" and "Rarely or Never". As a side note, this type of exam is becoming more common in the private sector as well, so getting familiar with this type of questioning should prove to be beneficial to your employment prospects overall.

Do not rush through this exam, it's very tempting to rush through this exam as the questions seemingly cover the same topics over and over again. You will not be scored in a traditional method, technically, there are no right or wrong answers. Here is the best pathway to success. Look at each question in the following way. It is generally accepted that the Postal Service is looking for stable minded, hard working individuals that are able to handle stress, can control their temper, are motivated to work well with others without becoming overly frustrated and are safety conscious. Therefore, we would advise that while taking this exam, that you briefly pause before answering each question and remember the above phrase in regards to what type of individual it is generally accepted that the Postal Service is looking for. It's also important that you remain consistent through the exam with how you answer. Remember, the same questions are asked, just in different ways, so just stay consistent with how you answer the questions. On the following pages, we will list some sample questions and answers for this exam.
